Professional Work Information

Summary

I am an overachiever with an ambition and motivation to do my best and help others while doing it. I am starting a new challenging private sector business carrier that I can thrive at, after a decade of non-profit work. I do my best work under pressure in cutting edge fields that are ahead of their time, and have global significance. I am currently a part time Ad Operations Specialist, level II, at eBay Now and know that I can be a huge support of any administrative team as I move up the ranks. Additionally I just got hired into the Program Director for InterMovement Trainings of a Non-Profit organization that I started myself, where I travel to cities and do weekend trainings once a month to support the peoples movement. I am continually peeking my professional career and will continue to excel, as I know that one day I will be the head of a corporate department, store, or entire multi-million dollar company, but until I get there I give my best every day on whatever I am working on.

My history as a social entrepreneur started after graduating from UC Santa Cruz with a Bachelors Degree in Environmental Studies and Biology. I got hired as the UC Santa Cruz Sustainability Advisor, a position created from co-founding seven organizations within the Campus Sustainability Movement. After a few years my role ended and since then I have surrounded myself in non-profit social entrepreneurship with my own business and non-profit organizations while working part time positions to pay bills. Now I am excited to commit full time to a carrier that will allow me to excel and give my best. I am a wealth of skills and knowledge from my years of experience running my own business and working in the non-profit sector. Additionally I speak spanish and have contacts and knowledge of national and international organizing and communications.
